Cookie Notice

Last updated: 31st March 2025

1 Introduction

Barhale Limited (“Barhale”, “we”, “us”, “our”) uses cookies on its website. This Cookie Notice explains more about cookies and why we use them. It also explains how you can control and opt out of receiving them.

This policy should be read together with our Privacy Notice which sets out how and why we collect, store, use and share personal information generally, as well as your rights in relation to your personal information and details of how to contact us and the ICO if you have a complaint.

We update this Cookie Notice from time to time in response to changes in applicable laws and regulations, changes to our processing practices and to products and services we offer. When changes are made, we will update the date shown above. Please review this Cookie Notice periodically to check for updates.

2 About Cookies

A cookie is a small text file which may be downloaded to your device when you visit our website. We use cookies to allow our website to function correctly, remember your preferences and to track visitors to our website.

The cookies we use on our website fall into the following categories:

Statistics or Analytics Cookies

We use cookies to collect information about the use of our website by visitors such as the pages they visit most often, how they arrived at our website and associated information. We use these cookies to learn more about how our website is used to identify problems and areas for improvement. These cookies do not collect any directly identifiable personal information about visitors.

Strictly Necessary Cookies

We use strictly necessary cookies on our website to ensure that the pages load properly. Our website would not work properly without these cookies.

First Party Cookies

First party cookies are set by us and used to help us improve our website.

Persistent Cookies

Persistent cookies stay on your device after you have left our website.

Session Cookies

Session cookies are not permanent. They only stay on your device for as long as you are visiting our website.
